

Song Of The Pines Retsina, Sterea Ellada 2022 Tzivanis S.A., Sterea Ellada, Greece

eCommerce # 36328 | 13.5 % alc./vol. | $22.00

The powerful Retsina Song Of The Pines PGI of Tzivani flatters in the glass wonderfully distinguished notes of peaches. This is joined by hints of resin and boxwood. On the palate it opens pleasantly aromatic, fruit-driven and balanced. The texture of this powerful white wine is wonderfully silky. Exceptionally fresh and lively. In the finish finally inspires with beautiful length. Once again, hints of peach appear.

History & Terroir:

Phaedon, father of George Tzivani started to craft family's first biologically produced wines in 1960.

George, with the encouragement of his wife, Chrissie, in 1982, started cultivating Greek and European varieties on 110HA area, in Ristona Evoia, Arma Voiotia and other key regions in Greece. Tzivani Estate organic wines are produced only on family's low yield vineyards (every vine produces one bottle of wine) that gently slope from the winery building located on a 400-450 m elevation hill.

Vinification:

Fermentation in stainless steel tanks at controlled temperatures. After the completion of fermentation, the wine can further harmonize on the fine lees for a few months.

Varieties: Savatiano 90%, Roditis 10%

Residual Sugar: 2 g/L

Serving suggestion and food pairing: Serve at 12°C with chickpea curry, leek tortilla or spinach gratin with almonds.
