Ruche di Castagnole Monferrato

DOCG "Laccento" 2017

Società Agricola Montalbera srl, Piedmont, Italy

eCommerce # 596089 | 15.0 % alc./vol. | $34.00

Intense ruby red with slight purple reflections in youth, turning garnet after the first few years in the bottle. Intense, persistent and fruity with aromas typical of wild berries jam. Warm on the palate, pleasant, rare silkiness.

Terroir:

The Montalbera Winery was founded at the beginning of the 20th century in an area located in the townships of Grana, Castagnole Monferrato, and Montemagno. 175 Ha vineyards in the Monferrato and Langhe. Castagnole Monferrato vineyards cover six entire hills, which dip down into a valley cultivated with the traditional Piedmontese hazelnut. The vines are trained in low Guyot trellises. 82 Ha are planted with Ruchè, which comprises 60% of the entire production of this appellation. Other planted varieties are Barbera d'Asti and Grignolino.

Vinification:

Traditional red vinification. Maturation in steel tanks and then in the bottle at controlled temperature.

Variety: Ruchè 100%

Residual Sugar: 6 g/L

Serving suggestion and food pairing: Serve at 18°C. Perfect accompaniments for white and red meat, pasta, game and middle-aged cheeses.
