The indigenous Malagouzia and the cosmopolitan Sauvignon blanc blend their qualities to give an elegant wine with bright colour, wild flowers and peach aromas, opulent mouth and charming finish.

History & Terroir:

Phaedon, father of George Tzivani started to craft family's first biologically produced wines in 1960.

George, with the encouragement of his wife, Chrissie, in 1982, started cultivating Greek and European varieties on 110HA area, in Ristona Evoia, Arma Voiotia and other key regions in Greece. Tzivani Estate organic wines are produced only on family's low yield vineyards (every vine produces one bottle of wine) that gently slope from the winery building located on a 400-450 m elevation hill.

Variety: Sauvignon Blanc 60 %, Malagouzia 40%

Residual Sugar: 0.8 g/L

Serving suggestion and food pairing: Serve at 12°C with fish, pork and "white" Mediterranean cuisine.
