Truly unique product that harmoniously combines innovation and loyalty to old traditions. Vodka is made from best spirits from select wheat varieties, spring artesian water that has undergone a multi-stage purification system, and a special oatmeal infusion.

Perfect transparency. Vodka with a soft and velvety taste. The finish is long, with a gentle bitterness. The aroma is pleasant with a subtle rye hue.

History:

A team of leading industry specialists worked for two years under the strict control of the Kremlin to perfect the formulation of this new vodka. The finished recipe remained a state secret, further elevating the status of this exclusive spirit. This vodka was only produced on a special order of the Kremlin and in limited quantities.

For decades this vodka was recognized by the Kremlin but did not bear an official name. Among insiders it was referred to as “protocol vodka,” or simply “the Kremlin’s vodka.”

In the production of each bottle a certificate containing the signatures of the professionals involved in producing the vodka was issued. Under the watchful eye of an inspector of the State Security Committee, the sanitary service adhered to strict quality control standards, performing tests on the vodka throughout each stage of its production. Every case of vodka produced was stamped, placed in a special container, and sealed for delivery. To date, this rigorous system of control remains firmly in place, guaranteeing the unrivalled quality of a spirit designed for heads of state.

Serving suggestion and food pairing: recommended to serve in pure form, perfectly complements a variety of dishes of Russian and European cuisine.
